The St. Catharines News (Grit)

remarks that the circulation of the free trade indulged in by the Globe and a few other Reform organs is only driving the party further from power and making for it a rougher and longer road to Vancouver.

It is Vancouver Island according to the Globe. With a length of 300 miles and an average breadth of 55 miles, its sides pierced by numerous inlets, sounds, estuaries, and harbours, available for the deepest draught ships, its surface covered with good timber, its rocks rich with the only true coal on the Pacific coast, with sufficient agricultural and a few a population of 1,000,000, with adjacent island upon which choice grades of sheep and cattle are raised: with the waters that wash its shores stocked with the finest varieties of fish, from the lordly salmon and princely salmon to the elegant sculpin and herring; with a climate unsurpassed for salubrity, and an soil every day in the year tender plants are nurtured in the open air; with water power sufficient to drive the looms of the world—such is this small, rich, little island of Vancouver.

The best thing to do with the Royal Military College at Kingston is to abolish it. It is simply a refuge for English officers, who see the country nothing and to whom the country is no way indebted. Places are kindly kept in the English service for four centuries every year. But why should Canada maintain an expensive institution for the purpose of turning out cadets for the English service? What good does that do to Canada, or in what way does it benefit the Canadian militia? Every body sees that the establishment of the institution was a blunder. Mr. Mackenzie was bitten with Jingoism at the time. But the Government has not the courage to abolish it. It maintains a military institution for which there is no earthly use is bad enough. To maintain a useless institution merely as a refuge for English officers, and to have these officers calling themselves to secure the dismissal of the only Canadian officer in it, is a perpetual insult to the Canadian militia force. The place should be closed up as soon as the year's appropriation is expended.—Ez.

A WRITER in the New York Times thinks that the Pacific railway project of Canada, which, though it is in some respects exaggerated, deserves attention and that favorable conditions under which the Canadian line will be constructed will enable it to outbid the American lines for the transcontinental trade. Among other things he says: "When the Canadian Pacific railway is completed to Port Moody, on the Pacific coast, its proprietor will have a line to Chicago shorter by some 200 miles than the American route, and the result may be that our own Pacific line will lose the bulk of their carrying trade from China and Japan—a contingency which the people of this country can hardly view with satisfaction. The Canadian Pacific railway company have had the wisdom to see that their road will be a success only if they can dispose of their land grant at a high price, and they are consequently selling their land, according to experts from $5 to $10 per acre as wheat lands, at $2.50 per acre as a rebate of one half the purchase money for all land brought into cultivation and settled upon within four years. This judicious policy is already bearing fruit by attraction from Ontario and from some of our West coast States, as well as from Europe, a class of farmers the produce of whose labour will afford a ample transit business for the great Canadian line. The land grant lands issued by the company and which are recoverable at 10 per cent premium in payment for the company's lands, have already been taken up in Iowa and New York without any reference to the hitherto unavailing London Stock Exchange."

Sir Alexander Galt is virtually in evidence of the existence of any strong feeling in favor of Canadian independence. It is not "a live question," he says, very truly, the people "do not trouble themselves" with that sort of thing; independence talk proceeds from silly boys, who are to be pocket-picked by their wiser and more discerning brethren. They arrive at their conclusion by the way of reasoning to those who remember that Sir Alexander posed as an independence man for years after the Confederation, and even called the attention of the English government to what he called his opinions in the matter. He would not take a title till the Queen was crowned, and he was not the disruption of the empire! As Sir Galt's disposition is not regarded as a "live question," nor consider Mr. Galt's possession of a new set of sliding views as a matter of grave consequence, he became Sir Alexander.

and obey to pass as a glorious patriot

forbidding to write himself down "slightly" because of his advanced opinion on "Jingo."

AN exchange says outsiders know very little of Algonas. It is the half way house between the populus and the frontier west. It is as long as from Detroit from Montreal. It has more unique localities than all the rest of Canada. It has fisheries, nothing equal which exists in Canada, and it has broad forests yet unsurveyed awaiting only the surveyor and sons of toil to become one of the most flourishing parts of Canada's far domain.

The Toronto Globe and the New York Herald both indulge in a vigorous onslaught over the Yamaca canal; the Herald threatens that if the Dominion kicks up a dust over the Blaine bridge the navy of the United States will be sent to the North Pole to make a flunk attack upon Canada. The Globe retorts that the Dominion is a flunk attack upon Canada. The Globe retorts that the Dominion is a flunk attack upon Canada.

The authorities at Dublin Castle are said to be in the possession of information to the effect that a section of the League extremists are endeavoring to checkmate the Land Act by provoking riots throughout the country. It is feared that a great calamity has occurred at Dublin, with 110 men on board. They went out to sea from Dun Laoghaire, a fortnight ago, and it is believed they perished in the terrible storm of October 14.

Propensity of Percheron Horses.

It is claimed by high authority that Percheron horses are possessed of more endurance, are capable of performing a greater amount of quick, heavy work, are more tractable and easily broken than any other breed of large horses. And that the colts, the produce of Percheron stallions, partake in a greater degree of the qualities of their sires, and from their great value bring higher prices on the market, than those from any other of the large breeds. These are facts that will be appreciated by the public. It is well known that all countries where draft horses are raised, the French people are the only ones who make a practice of leaving all the male entries and of working them before and after the season service ends, practice that has been in vogue hundreds of years, and that has been attributed much of the superior excellence of the race. Every one knows that the only way to secure a high physical or mental development in a horse is a judicious and systematic course of exercise. And the great results attained by the French have been by carrying out the principle of breeding from sires and dams both developed physically to the highest degree by constant use in such work as their progeny would be called upon to perform.

This system, practiced continually, has increased the propensity of each generation and concentrated the transmissible qualities of all the valuable elements developed by the judicious training of sires. Therefore in their progeny are found the docile and willing workers, with a superior quality of muscle, a density and toughness of bone, a general vigour and powerful organization that cannot be obtained from any race whose sires have been for generations wholly exempt from even the most ordinary labour, and whose temper and will are irritable by constant confinement, in most cases in an isolated stable. Then, if valuable, good-tempered and healthy, hard-worked horses are desired, breed from those that possess these qualities, transmitted through sires and dams from the remotest ancestry. On the contrary, if soft, loose-muscled, spongy-bodied, ill-tempered horses are wanted, breed from those whose sires or progenitors have never been subjected to arduous labour, and whose temper and will are soft, so that they have never been developed as sellars either—National Live Stock Journal, Chicago.

HOME MATTERS.

Any person having copies of the News of Oct. 14 and 21 will confer a favor by leaving them at this office.

Will you be here at Christmas? Because if you are you can procure a nice present and thus the beautiful Christmas cards of W. H. Calder's.

Three men and eight instruments perambulated the streets yesterday making vain attempts to persuade people that they were giving a concert. Even the small boys failed to appreciate the music.

Any person who is idly, busily enough, to sit on the store windows is miserable enough to do anything, and we shall certainly give the next guilty party a "curable" list.

It is the intention of a number of the young people of the county to organize a musical society, under the direction of a gentleman of Stirling. It is to be hoped the project will be carried out and concert given throughout the winter for benevolent purposes.

We were recently shown through the Haggerty & Teller elevator, at present being by J. D. McCauley, by Mr. Alex. Haggerty and we were placed in the immense quantity of grain stored there and the neat systematic order in which everything was kept.

The most sensible thing for the village council to do is to annual all acts requiring a license for any dramatic, musical, minstrel or other troupe which may visit Stirling. A village, as a rule, has a dearth of amusements and it is a gain to any place to have all the attractions possible for in no other way will the farming community be attracted to a town.

It seldom one listens to a sermon as sound and practical as that delivered by Rev. James Gray, at the Presbyterian church, last Sunday evening. He is an able speaker and a deep thinker, and his discourses are aimed at the great evils of this and every age. Many persons will be wiser if they will pay strict attention to Mr. Gray's sermons.

A pretty young lady entered the studio of one of our photographers yesterday, and asked him whether he would have any occasion to take her in light. The photographer, who is a modest man, blushed and said he would rather not. Which rather surprised the young lady, who said that she had herself taken in light by a Toronto photographer—Indefinite.

The respectability of a town is gauged by its morals; not by possessing "young ladies" (if) who are photographed in "light." The Thaworths who farm near Beaver Lake left at our office on Tuesday a sample lot of potatoes which weighed in all 11 lbs. 13 oz. the heaviest weighing 1 lb. 13 oz. They are all of about the same size. We have not seen their equal this year. If any of our farmers can beat this lot we shall be glad to record it.

Says the Courier—Miss Minnie Kirkland, a native of Trenton, and only daughter of the late James Kirkland, a well-known merchant of this place, has just sailed in company with her mother, from San Francisco, Cal., to Honolulu, whither she goes to be united in marriage to a gentleman who was sent thither on a government embassy. He is expected at a plantation. The wedding is to take on the 20th inst.

The residents of the west end of the village have been greatly troubled of late with snake thieves. Scarcely a night passes without a theft of some kind or another being committed. Mr. Blakey lost a quantity of grain and other property, and others have lost wood and whatever else could be carried off. The suspected culprit is being sought. Mr. Blakey lost last Monday about 5:30 in the evening a young man, who lives a few miles from Stirling, went into W. H. Calder's jewelry store and asked to be shown some silver rings. He examined a number of rings, and when he thought Mr. Calder was not looking slipped one in his pocket and "rang round in a corned beef" for the stolen minutes before attempting to depart, and when he did make a dash for the door Mr. Calder quietly requested the would-be thief to give up the ring, which he did in a scared-to-death manner, covered with confusion. This is not the first attempt this youthful candidate for what in England would be called the "Bulley" has made and he had better be a little careful.

St. John's church was formerly reopened last Friday evening, after being closed for several weeks for improvements. The service was of an interesting character, the pastor being assisted by several clergymen from Belleville and other parishes. The church is extremely beautiful, a new carpet covers the floor, and a magnificent redwood altar has been placed in the altar. The choir has been reorganized in a new and original manner, and the organ is a fine specimen of the kind. The church is now the handsomest in the county. The beautiful music on the centre panel of the organ—"I am the bread of life" was made and presented to the church by Miss Alice Craik.

Pursuant to notice a meeting at the law of U. C. Titus on Tuesday evening, and proceeded to discuss the advisability of organizing a debating and literary society for Stirling citizens were chosen and the same were adjourned to meet next Tuesday at the same hour and place. The arrangements made for the public debate, and the strong assurance of support are given to those present were the expression of satisfaction to furnish the young people of Stirling with one of the best methods of instruction will be successful.

Personal.

Miss Mary White, of Pictou, of Sidney, is visiting friends in the city.

Miss Annie Hubble of Rawdon left last week to attend college at Belleville, and is greatly missed by many of her old friends.

Mr. William Butler still suffers considerably from the effects of his late accident.

Mr. Fred Root left last Friday after a short visit to his home. He returned to Smithville.

Miss Jennie Parker will visit her friends in the village for a few weeks.

Miss Wm Martin returned on Tuesday from a two weeks visit with her daughter, Mrs. Thresher of Sidney.

Mr. Alex. Calder, a brother of our wide awake jeweler, W. H. Calder, left last Tuesday after a short visit in this vicinity, as is present in the county jail awaiting removal to the lunatic asylum.

Mr. Rostum, of Colburn, took part in the projected meeting at the C. M. meeting on Sunday evening.

"Joe does not beam upon us with his smile as of yore, at the Scott house any more just now. He has gone to visit his friends at Shawanauke for a few days. He is expected to return on the 15th inst.

Mr. A. G. Scott has developed a remarkable strong attachment for his coach. Cause some rheumatism.

Miss Emma Bull left on Wednesday for a two weeks visit with friends in Belleville.

BRIEFLETS.

The gentle bird of snow has shipped. One dollar will secure the News-Angus from now until the end of 1882.

Barley is down but the demand for rye and proof still continues.

On Thursday last 600 boxes of cheese were shipped from Haggerty's station.

A fine coating of ice covered "the pond" on Monday morning.

One of our hotel keepers recently lost a dollar note, and he will never recover it unless he kills Dr. Walker's dog.

Protracted meetings at the C. M. church cloth the evening. The revival has lasted several weeks.

The people living in the vicinity of Horvath's station are clamoring for a post-office and telegraph connection.

The gentle cry of the grain-buyer "What have you got on?" still echoes in musical cadences down the streets of Stirling.

An employee of the C. N. W. telegraph company was in town last Monday morning the wires from the post-office to the office at Jas. Boldrick's.

Our young men are evidently fond of clothing, at least the number of suits that ordered at the leading store points is daily increasing.

Should you slaughter the ring-tailed coon—provided you can find him. His holidays were over Nov. 1st.

We challenge the scholars for any school in Ontario to compete with the 5th class of the Stirling public school. Mr. McQuarrie may well feel proud of the "Fifth."

Home Thoughts.

One more of the Stirling girls has shipped over the broomstick, leaving on this side a whole life time of pleasant reminiscence, while on the other side she bears the kindest wishes of the whole village.

On the afternoon of Wednesday last, at the residence of her uncle Mr. Jas. Milne, Miss Edith C. Clute, daughter of Mr. Richard Clute, was married to Mr. John Williams, attorney of Belleville. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. R. W. Marsh, assisted by Rev. Mr. Walker.

After an early dinner, the happy (in this case the phrase is not unmeaning) took the evening train for Belleville, where the solemn realities of life were at once asserted. A reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Williams at Belleville in the evening and a few of the many friends of the groom met and welcomed with the kindest wishes a pledge of continuing friendship the two whose wedded life is thus auspiciously begun.

Rumor said since Wednesday the price of old shoes and rice has gone up 20 per cent. in Stirling.

Thus one by one they pass away gradually contracting the circle of those who find in single blessedness their happiness and liberty.

THE QUESTION SETTLED.

There is no arguing the question of the propriety of some substance for special service in emergencies. They will do all they promise, and more, if judiciously used. The following from Mr. F. Murphy, of No. 1 First Main Street, Ottawa, leaves no doubt on the point stated. Mr. Murphy says: "I had occasion to use St. Jacob's Oil recently, and was very much pleased with the result. I ever saw used. I caught cold from getting wet at a f. c. and it settled in my shoulder and down my back to my hip. I suffered a great deal from the pain. I was advised to try St. Jacob's Oil. I did so, and after the fourth application I was entirely free from pain. I cannot speak too highly of it, and advise others to use it."
